Mr. L. J. Stickley is ill with grip at his home in Poplar street.

Mrs. Howard Cady of Covington, who has been ill with pneumonia, is now convalescent.

Frances, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Coisel, fell a few days ago dislocating her hip.

Colonel George N. Crawford this morning most emphatically denies the report that he is dead.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist Church at Orangeburg has closed, with eight additions.

By special request, Prof. Poorman will sing "The Holy City" at the services this evening at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Charles A. Walther has moved his tailoring establishment from the White Building to the second story flat over Mrs. L. V. Davis's Millinery Store.

February 15th we will positively give the Diamond Ring away. We will continue to give tickets to those who pay their accounts until this date; also with every $5 cash purchase.

W. W. Ball, Cashier of the First National Bank, received a dispatch yesterday morning from his son, Winslow, who is a student of Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester, stating that the College burned that day, causing a loss of about $75,000, with insurance about one-third that amount. It is believed that the fire started from an overheated furnace. All the interior equipments of the handsome College were destroyed, including the costly Fifth Library. The College was the official school of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

At the burning recently of the Poth stables in the East End it is said the loss would not have been so great had the fire plug not been stopped up with rocks and foreign substance which prevented the water flowing freely. It is a very important matter and it should be seen to that the plugs are flushed and cleaned out at least once a month. Should a fire occur during this zero weather and the water supply not up to the requirements, owing to a lack of attention, it would be a terrible misfortune. It is somebody's duty to see that they are properly looked after and it should be attended to at once before we have a fire.

GEORGE W. CRAWFORD.

Mr. George W. Crawford died at his home in East Second street yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after suffering intense agony from blood poisoning.

He injured his thumb some ten days ago by the penetration of a wire nail, and notwithstanding he received the best of medical attention he passed away, as above stated.

The deceased was 56 years old and was born near Washington, where he resided until coming to this city years ago.

He leaves a wife and five children—two girls and three boys—to mourn his loss.

The funeral will be at the home tomorrow at 2 o'clock, with services by Rev. M. A. Banker.

Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

GORGED AGAIN

The Ice in the River Stopped Running Yesterday Afternoon

The river blocked again yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and ten minutes thereafter four men from Aberdeen crossed to this side. Never in the memory of the oldest riverman did conditions present themselves as now confront the river craft in this vicinity.

The ice is piled ten feet high all along the city front, and the danger attending the boats at the wharf has been multiplied ten times.

The river is falling here, which will again place the Tacoma in jeopardy.

A sudden rise of ten feet of water will carry the ice over the top of the piers, and nothing on earth will stay or prevent it sweeping everything before it like chaff in a windstorm.

The outlook is the worst ever presented.

The only hope is that it might go with a

ALL-DAY SERVICES

The Evangelistic Meetings Yesterday of Unusual Interest

Yesterday was a great day in the history of our present revival services.

It seemed like Sunday, for the day was given to the Lord. From early morning until the evening people were attending Church, and every meeting was crowded with a listening audience of men, women and young people.

In the touching consecration service of the morning, Dr. Ely spoke about the cross of the Christian in the performance of duty. Every service has its cross which the Christian should be willing to bear. When you pray for a man's salvation, follow up your prayer by going to that person and speaking to him about his soul. The Doctor's thought was enforced by beautiful illustrations.

The Men's meeting in the afternoon was an inspiring service. The First Presbyterian Church was simply a "sea of upturned faces" of working men and business men eager for the message of the hour.

The occasion will not soon be forgotten by those present. After a few brief, well-spoken words by the Ministers and several laymen, Mr. John Duley and Judge Cochran offered appropriate remarks which appealed to every one present. The latter gave his personal endorsement to the meeting, closing his remarks by a reference to the Y. M. C. A., which is always on his heart.

After the several informal speeches, Dr. Ely gave a stirring address to the men, appealing to them to lead the Christian life, asking them to take Christ and the Bible as their guide and creed. A deep impression seems to have been made upon the audience.

The Women's meeting at the Baptist Church and the Young People's meeting at the Central Presbyterian Church were very gratifying successes. The ubiquitous, ever-present Prof. Pierman sang at all these meetings. He would have been greatly missed at any of them. "His wonderful how well he does his part all the time, working as hard as he does. He is certainly one of God's worthy laborers and seems to be the very man to be associated with Dr. Ely in his great "work of faith and labor of love."

The meeting at night was a fitting conclusion to the day's services. The house was crowded, despite the weather's coldness. The text was from the twelfth chapter of Hebrews, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Dr. Ely proceeded in his usual clear, simple and forceful way.

"Salvation," said he, "is a word of wide application." The beggar, starving, will say, "Thank God, I am saved," when food is given him. The dying man, when healed by the physician, can say, "I am saved."

"But the salvation of my text is a greater salvation. If you can tell any one how to escape if he neglects such a great salvation, you owe it to the world to do so. How shall we escape?"

"How shall we escape! The sin of neglect is a great and terrible sin. You don't have to throw stones at the Preacher or the Church to be lost; you may simply neglect this great salvation and that is enough."

The Maysville Elks who put on the Minstrel Show at Washington Opera-house some two weeks ago journeyed to Flemingsburg last evening where their performance was reproduced, with a few additional features. It is needless to say the boys made a big hit.

Doan's Kidney Pills reach the root;

Their work in Maysville proves it.

You read of cures made years ago,

And the cures were lasting cures.

Read the following:

Mrs. Mary Thomas, wife of J. A. Thomas of 204 Limestone street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I am only too pleased to confirm the statement I made in the spring of 1900 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, after they had relieved me of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. I got them then at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore. During the years that have elapsed since I made that statement, I have had occasion to give Doan's Kidney Pills a further trial, and I have found that it requires only a few doses to ward off attacks of kidney trouble or to check them before they become serious. I can also point to the case of my boy, twelve years old, who at the time I first used Doan's Kidney Pills was troubled a great deal with weakness of the kidneys and could not control the secretions properly. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and he improved rapidly under the treatment. The relief he found has proved lasting, and from his experience and mine I am certainly warranted in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

A number of tobacco growers and brokers are preparing to market their tobacco by the latter part of this week. They were still hoping, however, that the committee which is in New York City in the interest of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association would be able to raise the $10,000,000 required to handle the present White Burley crop. A gleam of hope was a message Monday to Cincinnati parties from Archibald Stuart, who is still in New York, stating he had discovered a financier able to raise half the amount necessary, and that together they were making an effort to raise the other $5,000,000.

How to Save $1.25

We call the attention of all who admire beautiful table linen and appreciate the value of a dollar saved, to a line of table cloths and napkins that were $8.75 a set and are now $7.50.

The cloths are in the popular size 2½ yards square with 22-inch Napkins to match. The patterns are in dainty garlands or elaborate floriated effects woven on dew bleached Irish damask. One table cloth and twelve napkins to a set. Sold at the beginning of the linen sale for $8.75. Little more than a half dozen sets now remain and they go for $7.50.

Table cloths, napkins and towels hemmed free.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE

Well Known Cincinnati Kind Words For Colonel George Rosser

Maysville never sent out into the world a better or a more successful man than "Billy Carpenter," as he is universally called; and his goodness of heart was never more manifest than in his expressed regard for a life-long friend, set forth in the following characteristic letter—

W. H. CARPENTER, CINCINNATI, February 7th, 1905.

My old friend Thomas: I have read with sweet old time pleasure your beautiful and well-detailed tribute to our mutual good friend of more than half a century—dear Colonel George Rosser.

I cannot realize that any one of George's boy-day and school-day friends have thought of me and more affectionately of him and his kindness than has been my experience. In our Whitaker school days in Short street often did he hand me nice pieces of maple sugar and other goodies, and much did I enjoy eating same. My testimony is added to yours with regard to his never uttering a harsh word or expressing an unkind feeling. And in that, George is beyond reproach. A kinder heart, a warmer friend, a lovelier man I have never known; and I was a faithful reader of his good paper until the want of health made a wanderer of me placing me where I could not get it regularly. I also received your good journal for many years, and discontinued only for same reason.

Thomas, we are all older than when we first met, and the companionship of some of us is much changed, as well as looks, activity, and but let us all be friends and walk down the shady paths hand in hand. Let me finish with your own words, "God bless you, old man." Truly your friend,

W. H. CARPENTER.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very dependent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

MRS. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

The Administration announces that the arbitration treaties as amended by the Senate will not be presented to the Governments with which they have been negotiated. The Administration considers the amendment of the treaties tantamount to a rejection of them by the Senate.

River News

The tributaries continue to fall at headwaters.

Captain Cramer has sold his interest in the steamer Ben Hur.

The shore ice is expected to play smash with river craft when it breaks.

The Joe B. Williams and tow, near Ripley, have escaped damage so far.

A number of coalboats and barges were lost when the ice in the Monongahela let go Saturday.

The Raymond Horner is still ice-bound at Steubenville and the Harry Brown is laid up at Industry.

The river will be filled with loose logs in a few days—runaways out of the upper Ohio tributaries.

The cold weather has again frozen the hopes of rivermen for an early resumption of packet navigation.

The wharfboat at Vanceburg was carried off by the ice Saturday and stranded on shore ice one mile below town.

It will be a glad day to the hearts of steamboatmen when the boats get to running again. Shippers will be equally as glad.

The Relief, cut down in the Cincinnati harbor by the ice, is damaged to the extent of $15,000 or $20,000. Her machinery will be used on another boat.

James Lee, President of the Lee Line of packet boats plying between Memphis, St. Louis and the South, with connections at Cincinnati with the Pittsburgh Cincinnati Packet Line for Pittsburgh, died at his Memphis home Sunday. Deceased was a pioneer steamboat operator on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and leaves a valuable estate. His river interests will be continued by his son, Robert E. Lee, already associated with his father's vast river holdings.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE COMING

On top of the one just passed, together with the zero prices we are making on our winter stock of ROOTS and SHOES in an effort to get money to pay for spring goods, ought to make the PEOPLE GET WARM on our proposition to sacrifice profits this month in order to make CASH. What's the use to name a lot of prices? A visit to our store will convince you that we will give you more for your money than any shoe store in Maysville.

At Williamsburg, Mat Earles was given a life sentence in the Penitentiary for the murder of George Curd and Emma Durham.

John H. Kirby, called the lumber king of Texas, was indicted by a Texas Grand Jury on a charge of bribery by Warren Moore, a District Attorney. He is alleged to have paid Moore $12,500 to secure the dismissal of a case against the Kirby Lumber Company for violation of the Texas anti-trust law. Moore was also indicted.

A fire in the Casino Theater in New York Saturday caused a loss of about $30,000. The dress rehearsal of the "Lady Teazle" company was in progress and there was almost a panic among the chorus girls, but with the exception of a broken leg no casualties resulted. The fire occurred about two hours before the time for the matinee to begin. Fifteen hundred seats had been sold for the performance.
